Description

Add interesting texture and depth to your ceramic surfaces with serrated ribs

Creative versatility

This stiff plastic serrated triangular rib features three straight edges with different sized serrations providing creative versatility to the potter. Use this rib to draw, scratch, texturise or shape your surfaces, or use it as a scoring tool.

Sink your teeth into your clay

The different sized serrations on this rib allows you to sink your designs into different types of clay bodies, whether they be fine, gritty, soft, or stiff. The stiff plastic provides you with a secure and comfortable grip, giving you maximum control. The plastic material also ensures your serrated edges will be durable and lasting.

An essential tool for every potter

This serrated rib is an ideal tool for adding interesting texture and depth to your ceramic surfaces, whether you are throwing on the wheel or hand building.
